

14 Howling Green St.,
Leith, Scotland.

September 13, 1933.

Mr Stewart M. Robinson,
Editorial Rooms,
"The Presbyterian,"
1217 Market Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir,

I have only today received your letter dated August 28th regarding my article "Thoughts From The Scottish Pao," owing to the fact that since sending in the above article I have finished my theological course in the Northern Baptist Theological Seminary in Chicago and returned home to Leith (Edinburgh), Scotland.

I submit the following facts about myself and you may, from them, select the "more of words" of which you speak in your letter.

I hold the B. Th. (Bachelor of Theology) degree from the Northern Baptist Theological Seminary, Chicago. Since returning to Scotland (in June of this year) I have been engaged in some evangelistic services under Charlotte Baptist Chapel, Edinburgh (Dr. W. Graham Scroggie's church), and at present I am awaiting recognition before entering the Baptist ministry here in Scotland. I am twenty-eight years of age, having been born in Leith, Scotland 1905.

Regarding the lack of honorarium, I understand perfectly and I consider your acceptance and publication of my article sufficient recompense for my efforts. I would, however, be obliged if you would forward to me at above address two copies of the issue of the "Presbyterian" in which my article appears. I have had a few articles published in different publications and I like to keep copies of the published articles on hand for reference.

Assuring you this favor will be appreciated, and thanking you for your kindness,

I remain,

Yours Sincerely,
Robert Murdoch.